Fees and Expenses

If you have an account in the Plan, it may be subject to asset-based fees, Plan administrative fees and expenses, and/or individual fees and expenses.

Asset-Based Fees

Asset-based fees reflect an investment option's total annual operating expenses and include management and other fees. They are often the largest component of retirement plan costs and are paid by all shareholders of the investment option. Typically, asset-based fees are reflected as a percentage of assets invested in the option and often are referred to as an "expense ratio." You may multiply the expense ratio by your balance in the investment option to estimate the annual expenses associated with your holdings.

Asset-based fees are deducted from an investment option's assets, thereby reducing its investment return. Fee levels can vary widely among investment options, depending in part on the type of investment option, its management (including whether it is active or passive), and the risks and complexities of the option's strategy. In some instances, a Plan's administrative services may be paid for through offsets and/or payments associated with a Plan's investment options.

Plan Administrative Fees and Expenses

Plan administrative fees may include recordkeeping, legal, accounting, trustee, and other administrative fees and expenses associated with maintaining the Plan. Some Plans may deduct these fees and expenses from individual accounts in the Plan.

The Plan permits fees to be deducted from accounts in the Plan. Based on the information and direction Fidelity had on file at the time this brochure was prepared, no Plan administrative fees were to be deducted from accounts in the Plan. However, the Plan's administrative services may be paid for through offsets and/or payments associated with one or more of the Plan's investment options. Please keep in mind that fees are subject to change.

Individual Fees and Expenses

Individual fees and expenses include those associated with a service or transaction you may select, or an investment option you hold in your account. In some instances, they may be deducted from the accounts of those individuals who use the service or engage in the transaction.

If you have an account in the Plan, and you select or execute the following service(s) or transaction(s), the fee(s) outlined below may be deducted from your account based on the information and direction Fidelity had on file at the time this Notice was prepared. As you review this information, please keep in mind that fees are subject to change and that certain individual fees may not be deducted in some circumstances.
